NAME

*A Forum for Professional Debate
A National Voice for Music Education
A Regional Network for Training and Support*

The National Association of Music Educators (NAME) is the professional organisation representing all involved in music education: class and instrumental teachers; heads of music services; advisers; inspectors; higher education lecturers; publishers; independent consultants and administrators.

To help its members develop high quality music education accessible to all, NAME:

- Contributes to the creation of strong, national and unified voice for music education
- Provides opportunities for professional exchange through local, national and regional events
- Promotes members' professional development
- Informs members of current issues through publications, newsletters and website
- Collaborates with other organisations

Are you a member? Non-members joining at Conference receive the remainder of this year's membership and back copies of Postbag and NAME Magazine FREE OF CHARGE. Complete your booking form for the 2006 Conference NOW!
